Kim has been involved in volunteer services and non-profit causes since the 1990's and is a passionate advocate for health and wellness programs for those in need of assistance to lead a healthy lifestyle both mentally and physical. Kim began volunteering her time in 1990 as PTA President and Team Leader for Grandparents Day at a local elementary school in Severn, MD. Kim previously served as the Executive Director of HOPE in Northern Virginia in Falls Church, VA whose mission is to provide women and their children resources that empower, educate, and equip them to live healthy lives.

Upon her return to Indiana, PA, Kim's volunteer community work began with the newly established family support group at SpiritLife Rehab Center, Penn Run, Pa. In 2018, Kim and the Executive Director of SpiritLife, Inc., opened the SpiritLife Community Recovery Center and served as a volunteer recovery specialist and was appointed to the board of directors. In 2020, the board appointed Kim as a volunteer SpiritLife Community Recovery Center Executive Director. As we continued to grow, our board changed our name to the Indiana County Recovery Center (ICRC). In the spring of 2020, ICRC received 501© status.
